

HARRY P.
FURNISS.

London's best sketch artist, illustrates news events

IN SUNDAY'S WORLD.

FAIR

Cooler.

IN SUNDAY'S WORLD.

PRICE ONE CENT.

The EVENING EDITION WORLD.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1893.

A PRETTY
OFFICE-SEEKER.

What she experienced while office-hunting in Washington this week.

IN SUNDAY'S WORLD.

FAIR

Cooler.

PRICE ONE CENT.

SEE THE
SUNDAY WORLD

EXTRA.

2 O'CLOCK.
HE DEFIES MR. DALY.

Tavern-Keeper Ackerly, of Kensico, Declares He'll Not Move.

The Deputy Sheriff Will Oust Him To-Morrow Morning.

Brewsters, the Scene of Action To-Day, in Bad Shape.

BREWSTERS, March 31.—Commissioner Daly, of the Department of Public Works, and his party, who have been exploring the Croton water-shed during the last two days for the purpose of condemning and removing dangers to New York's water supply, reached here shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, on the last day of the present crusade.

The party spent the early part of last evening hunting for Sheriff Daly for the purpose of conferring with him regarding the treatment of the first case of real opposition to the enforcement of the law met with since the crusade began.

Just before dinner at Lawyer Dykman's house in White Plains Commissioner Daly was notified that Tavern-Keeper Ackerly, who on Wednesday was ordered to move out of his saloon at Kensico by to-morrow, had decided to ignore the mandate and remain in possession of his property under all circumstances.

The trio of officials were very much perturbed over this sudden and unexpected turn of affairs, and it was deemed advisable to postpone their visit to Kensico.

This dignitary was found in Albany, but Deputy Sheriff Verplanck was seen, and he assured the party that he would take care of Mr. Ackerly moved out according to orders.

Commissioner Daly was satisfied, and after spending an hour at the White Plains Hotel he left for Kensico, accompanied by Chet Engineer Heidau, to spend the night.

At 8:30 o'clock this morning the crusaders arrived here and after a light breakfast drove to the White Plains station, where they hopped on the 7 o'clock train for this place.

"I am very much pleased of the fact that the final crusade has come to a conclusion," said the Commissioner, "and everything has passed off smoothly. We will return to New York to-morrow."

Starting the crusade, Mr. Ackerly's refusal to obey the law, our trip so far has been highly successful, and although we have not yet got opposition on the part of the people in Brewsters, we do not expect any trouble.

"This place is by all odds the worst we have ever come across. There is a population of 10,000 now, and we have made our way into the Tonawanda creek, which flows into the Croton river, and the problem of cleaning up the creek, and at the same time removing the debris, is a serious one.

Perhaps rumor would not have been so bad were it not for the fact that the men who advertised were not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who had come to clean up the creek were not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named

Fremont, N. Y., and that the men who
had come to clean up the creek were
not from the city, but from a town named